Sentence Block Extensions

For all of the sentence block starting sentences there are at least two different wh- question words that can be used to make sentence blocks. In one case seven different sentence blocks can be made from the same starting sentence when using different wh- question words. There isn't room here to print in full all of the sentence block extensions from this unit. Hopefully, the answers given above will give you the teacher (or you the student) enough guidance to be able to make the sentence block extensions for this unit with confidence.

For example, let's look at the seventh starting sentence from this unit:

Gerald Forster will sign five hundred copies of his latest thriller at Harold's Bookshop on Thursday 28th May.

Talk a Lot

Books

Sentence Blocks

On the handout the wh- question word that is given is "How many", but this starting sentence also works equally well with six other wh- question words and phrases: "What" (x2), "Where", "When", "Who", and "Which":

What will Gerald Forster sign at Harold's Bookshop on Thursday 28th May? / Five hundred copies of his latest thriller.

What will Gerald Forster do at Harold's Bookshop on Thursday 28th May? / Sign five hundred copies of his latest thriller.

Where will Gerald Forster sign five hundred copies of his latest thriller on Thursday 28th May? / At Harold's Bookshop.

When will Gerald Forster sign five hundred copies of his latest thriller at Harold's Bookshop? / On Thursday 28th May.

Who will sign five hundred copies of his latest thriller at Harold's Bookshop on Thursday 28th May? / Gerald Forster will.

Which thriller will Gerald Forster sign five hundred copies of at Harold's Bookshop on Thursday 28th May? / His latest thriller.

The idea is easy. Change the wh- question word each time and you can make several completely different sentence blocks from the original starting sentence, simply by finding the relevant information for the answer in the starting sentence. As you can see below, sometimes the same wh- question word can be used more than once to make different sentence blocks.

You could cut out and give the section below to students:

Sentence Blocks – Sentence Stress and Vowel Sounds

Each content word (shown in black) contains one syllable with a strong stress, which is underlined. Each stressed syllable has one vowel sound. The vowel sounds on stressed syllables are the most important sounds in the sentence. They make the “sound spine” of the sentence. To improve communication, try to get the sound spine right.
